

Used to recover files that have been encrypted by the Ouroboros ransomware and therefore have a.Lazarus, and.Lazarus+ file extension. Intended for: Users who have been attacked by the Ouroboros ransomware (see Notes). Scan mode: Allows the Bidefender Decryption Utility for Ouroboros to analyze a specific folder (previous scan mode) or the entire system (current scan mode). Notes: The Ouroboros ransomware has several variants, so some decryptors might be able to unlock encrypted files only for a specific variant of the ransomware. You can try to find out which variant of Ouroboros you have been attacked by by analyzing the hidden.Lazarus+ extension created by the ransomware in a given folder. Download the Bidefender Decryption Utility for Ouroboros This tool can be found in the download page of the Bidefender Threat Prevention Center. For Windows users who have been attacked by the Ouroboros ransomware, it is advisable to try to restore the files after decrypting them using the Bidefender Decryption Utility. You can download this decryption application from the Bidefender website. Users who have not been attacked by the Ouroboros ransomware can safely ignore this recommendation. Possible triggers for a Bidefender Decryption Utility for Ouroboros scan: A text file in the test folder with a specific name, and containing a certain string A text file in the test folder with a certain name, and containing a certain string (convert to Unicode for this check).
